

Pointe-Claire Spring Development Training – Spring 2019

Eligible athletes	Athletes born between 2002 and 2005 Athletes born before 2001 will be evaluated by the head coach on a case-by-case basis. If an athlete has been approved to attend the development camp, a special in-camp agreement will need to be signed with the head coach.
Who is invited	We invite athletes who are motivated, willing to improve, and able to attend a minimum of 5 practices a week throughout the winter. When an athlete expresses interest in attending the camp, coaches will determine if the athlete is eligible to participate based on the past season and over the coming months. We also expect athletes to be in good health, have no injuries, and have good grades at school. We reserve the right to refuse athletes that do not attend training, that are not in the targeted athlete groups, that do not have a positive attitude, or whose families are not in good standing with the City of Pointe-Claire or the Canoe Club.

More specific additional information about the Camp will follow in the coming months. Feel free to ask the staff as many questions as you like.

Purpose of the Camp

Spring training camp is an excellent way for athletes to prepare for training and get a head start on the upcoming racing season. Specifically, it is an excellent way to improve fitness, technique, and boating skills in a fun environment. It is important that athletes are physically and mentally ready to train when camp begins. Athletes can start to prepare now and throughout the winter. Attendance and effort are crucial throughout the season.

Camp Staff

The camp staff will include;
 1 coach in charge of the camp (ratio of 10 to 14 athletes)
 1 cook

Other coaches will be added to the team depending on the numbers of athletes attending.

How the Camp Will Proceed

Athletes will paddle 2 to 3 times a day, with 1 dry land training session (running, stretching, weight training, games). Training is intensive and athletes should expect to paddle 2½ to 3 hours a day.

Here is a possible example of a typical day:

6:30 a.m.	Wake-up
7 a.m.	1st paddling session / warm-up exercise
9 a.m.	Breakfast
10 a.m.	2nd training session: either paddling, running, or weight training
12 p.m.	Lunch
1 p.m.	3rd training session: flexibility, technique analysis or mental training
3:30 p.m.	4th training session: long paddle
5:30 p.m.	Dinner
7 p.m.	Mandatory homework session
9 p.m.	Bed/quiet time

Homework: Athletes will be expected to keep up with their studies. There is a mandatory, Internet-free homework session every evening. Athletes will also have additional free time during the day to continue to work on their studies.

Technology: Athletes will have access to the Internet during the camp. We encourage athletes who bring their cellphones to have a good roaming plan. Personal laptops/iPads are also very useful for staying in touch and doing homework. PCCK is not responsible for lost or stolen belongings. The coaching staff reserves the right to limit device time.

Communication: Athletes are encouraged to stay in touch with their families every day. The coaching and support staff will only contact parents if there is an emergency or if the coach feels the need to do so. It is not the responsibility of the coaches or the support staff to send photos every day to families.

Accommodations: Athletes will be staying at a sleep-away camp. Coaches will assign athletes to bunkhouses according to their gender. Each bunkhouse includes twin-size bunkbeds.
